

```
while playing trajectory = []
    for current_position not (win || lose)
        if current_position is in data_base if result(current_position) == win:
                move = move(current_position)
            else:
                move = random
            retrieve current_position trajectory.add(current_position)
    data_base.add(trajectory, current_position)
```